

RECOMMENDATIONS FOR CHANGES TO THE SERVICES PART OF THE PROVISIONAL CENTRAL PRODUCT CLASSIFICATION (CPC)

(Interim Report)

Voorburg Group Meeting
September 11-15, 1995
Voorburg, The Netherlands

Prepared by:
THE CLASSIFICATION SUBGROUP
OF THE VOORBURG GROUP

INTRODUCTION

The Classification Subgroup of the Voorburg Group was formed to review and recommend changes to the Provisional Central Product Classification (CPC) of the United Nations based on countries' experiences in using the CPC

The first report of the Subgroup was presented to the Voorburg Group in October, 1994, and to the 1995 session of the United Nations Statistical Commission.

This interim report of the Subgroup reflects recommendations agreed upon at a meeting of the Classification Subgroup of the Voorburg Group, held April 24 to 28, 1995 in Ottawa, Canada

The Subgroup reviewed material prepared on the following areas:

- Construction work,
- Freight transportation,
- Environmental services,
- Community services, and
- Services incidental to...

The Subgroup reached agreement on certain issues and these are included in the report.

The report consists of two main sections :

1. The Structure of the CPC,
 2. The Explanatory Notes,
- and a third section
3. Some Unresolved Issues.

1. The Structure of the CPC

In this section of the report, the recommendations of the Subgroup for each CPC in selected areas are described, and certain outstanding issues are mentioned. The recommendations are also presented in tables.

In each table, the classes of the Provisional CPC are shown in the first column and the Subgroup proposals are shown in the second column. In a few cases, the Subgroup has made changes to the recommendations made previously. The tables for these CPC categories have three columns - the first shows the classes of the Provisional CPC; the second re-displays the Voorburg Group recommendations from 1994; and the third column shows only the changes being recommended by the Subgroup.

2. Explanatory Notes

For this report no attempt has been made to completely rewrite the Explanatory Notes of the Provisional CPC.

The notes provided in this report supplement those in the 1994 report. They simply clarify the existing Explanatory Notes of the Provisional CPC by providing a list of inclusions and/or exclusions. These inclusions and exclusions will be reviewed with the existing notes of the Provisional CPC and merged after checking for duplication. As well, when it is recommended that the current Explanatory Notes be revised, it has been noted which parts are to be deleted or added.

The task of rewriting the Explanatory Notes to correspond with the recommendations made for the structure will be undertaken for the final report to be presented to the 1996 session of the Voorburg Group. Where it has been recommended that classes be split or merged, the action required to finalize the Explanatory Notes has been indicated, but not yet carried out.

3. Outstanding and Unresolved Issues

This section of the paper lists issues that have been brought to the attention of the Subgroup, but that have not yet been discussed or that need further discussion.

In addition, certain issues were left for Subgroup members to further investigate and produce papers. These include:

1. Community and social services in national classifications correlated with the CPC - M. Beekman, Netherlands
2. Environmental services - S. Nijhowne, Canada and R. Martin, Australia
3. Hotel services - N. Langkjaer, Eurostat and R. Martin, Australia
4. Intangible assets - S. Nijhowne, Canada
5. Retail and wholesale trade - N. Rainer, Austria
6. Telecommunications - N. Langkjaer, Eurostat and P. Powell-Hill, USA
7. Tourism statistics - M. Beekman, Netherlands and N. Rainer, Austria
8. Transportation - M. Beekman, Netherlands

These areas have not yet been fully discussed. They will be resolved at the next meeting of the Subgroup and incorporated into the final version to be presented to the 1996 session of the Voorburg Group.

Coverage and Content of the CPC

The Subgroup discussed the issue of the coverage and content of the CPC. This subject is discussed in a separate note which will be circulated to the Voorburg Group members for their consideration.

Changes Being Proposed

The Subgroup has proposed some changes to the Provisional CPC, that merit special mention.

- 1) It is proposed that CPC Division 17 "Electricity, Town Gas, Steam and Hot Water" and Division 18 "Water" be moved out of the Goods part of the CPC to become a group in the Services part of the CPC (between 754 and Division 81). This new Group is entitled "Electricity, Gas, and Water Supply Services.
- 2) A new CPC Division for "Maintenance and Repair Services", which pulls together all of the maintenance and repair services that are currently scattered throughout the CPC, is being recommended. It is recommended that this new Division come after Division 88.
- 3) It is recommended that a new Group be created, under Division 88, for Installation services (other than construction), which will encompass the installation services that are currently "hidden" in the classes for services incidental to... in this Division.
- 4) The Provisional CPC attempts to distinguish products sold to businesses from products sold to persons, in three major areas.

Trade: CPC 62 Wholesale trade and CPC 63 Retail trade

Repair: CPC 886 Repair services incidental to metal products, machinery and equipment and CPC 633 Repair services of personal and household goods.

Leasing or rental: CPC 831 Leasing or rental services concerning machinery and equipment without operator and CPC 832 Leasing or rental services concerning personal and household goods.

In all these cases, there are products that are sold to both businesses and persons and the product sold to both is identical. Sometimes the product or service is supplied by the same business, e.g. repair of telecommunication equipment or electronic equipment is a service that may be provided on equipment being used by businesses and households. Even if some distinction is made on the basis of the type of product, there are products that are indistinguishable, so to implement a classification that makes this distinction, it becomes necessary to ask the supplier to be able to identify and distinguish transactions carried out with businesses from those carried out with persons, something the business may not be able to do. It has therefore been decided that in the case of Repair services and Leasing and rental services a distinction will be made on the basis of the type of product rather than the user, and the title "personal and household" goods will be changed.

It must be noted that the proposals contained in this report are tentative. As well, all titles need to be reviewed and the French translation must be checked. The Subgroup will further review all of these recommendations before they are finalized.

1. STRUCTURE OF THE CLASSIFICATION

Recommendations

The recommendations in this section have been made with new CPC codes, or with an indication that new codes are required. However, the entire coding system of the CPC will be reviewed before finalization. It will be necessary to change the structure of the classification and code numbers, both to accommodate recommended new categories and to create a hierarchy that makes it possible to request all countries to provide data at certain levels of the classification.

CPC 51 CONSTRUCTION WORK

In this area, the Subgroup has some recommendations, which are described below.

CPC 511 Pre-erection work at construction sites

It is recommended that

CPC 5111 "Site investigation work" be deleted since the components of this class are included elsewhere (i.e. under engineering or real estate),

and that

CPC 5116 "Scaffolding work"

be moved under proposed CPC 516 "Special trade construction work" (currently CPC 515) as

CPC 5167 "Scaffolding work".

CPC 512 Construction work for buildings

It is recommended that

CPC 5121 "For one- and two-dwelling buildings", and

CPC 5122 "For multi-dwelling buildings" be recoded to 51211 and 51212 respectively and be placed under a new four-digit class entitled

CPC 5121 "For residential buildings", and that a second 4-digit class,

CPC 5122 "For agricultural, non-residential and industrial buildings" be created with the following subclasses under it:

CPC 51221 "For industrial buildings" (currently CPC 5123)

CPC 51222 "For commercial buildings" (currently CPC 5124)

CPC 51229 "For other buildings" (a combination of CPC 5125 to 5129).

CPC 513 Construction work for civil engineering

It is recommended that

CPC 5137 "For constructions for sport and recreation" be moved to a separate three-digit category between CPC 512 and 513 and be renamed

CPC 513 "Construction work for sport and recreation", and that the subclasses under it be regrouped to become the following 4-digit classes:

CPC 5131 "For outdoor sport and recreation facilities", and CPC 5132 "For indoor sport and recreation facilities".

It is also recommended that

CPC 5131 to CPC 5136 and CPC 5139 be recoded to

CPC 5141 to CPC 5146 and CPC 5149 respectively.

It is further recommended that

CPC 5133 "For waterways, harbours, dams and other water works"

be recoded and renamed

CPC 5143 "For harbours, waterways, dams, irrigation and other water works",

and that

CPC 5135 "For local pipelines and cables; ancillary works"

be recoded and renamed

CPC 5145 "For local pipelines and cables and related works".

CPC 514 Assembly and erection

It is recommended that this group be recoded to CPC 515.

CPC 515 Special trade construction work

It is recommended that this group be recoded to CPC 516 and that

CPC 5153 "Roofing and water proofing"

be split into two classes

CPC 51631 "Roofing", and

CPC 51632 "Water proofing".

As previously noted, it is recommended that CPC 5116 be moved into this group as

CPC 5167 "Scaffolding work".

CPC 516 Installation work

It is recommended that this group be recoded to CPC 517.

It is also recommended that the word "construction" be changed to "installation" wherever it appears in a title under this group.

CPC 517 Building completion and finishing work

It is recommended that this group be recoded to CPC 518.

CPC 518 Renting services related to equipment for construction or demolition of buildings or civil engineering works, with operator

It is recommended that this group be recoded to CPC 519.

(See Section 3 for outstanding issues.)

2. EXPLANATORY NOTES

For this report, no attempt has been made to completely rewrite the Explanatory Notes of the Provisional CPC.

The notes provided in this report simply clarify the existing Explanatory Notes of the Provisional CPC, by providing a list of inclusions and/or exclusions. These inclusions and exclusions will be reviewed with the existing notes of the Provisional CPC and merged after checking for duplication.

The task of rewriting the Explanatory Notes to correspond with the recommendations made for the structure remains. Where it has been recommended that classes be split or merged, the action required to finalize the Explanatory Notes has been indicated, but not yet carried out.

For the final version of the CPC, one of two approaches could be adopted. Either the descriptive text could be supplemented with inclusions and exclusions of product descriptions, or the descriptive text could be replaced by lists of product descriptions. The latter would be preferable for a product classification, but it may be difficult to do unless service products, for which transactions occur and data can be collected, can be identified.

3. SOME UNRESOLVED ISSUES

GENERAL ISSUES

- 1) The coverage and content of the CPC.
- 2) An issue relating to CPC 886 - Repair services incidental to metal products, machinery and equipment is that the limits between repair, rebuilding, and manufacture is a problem. Is rebuilding used merchandise considered to be manufacture or repair? If the unit owns the used merchandise, does it fall within the category of transportable goods? If the customer does not get back his same merchandise, can this be described as repair? Some guidance with respect to these issues needs to be provided.
- 3) The boundaries and content of recreation, amusement and sport need to be reviewed, both in ISIC and the CPC.

SPECIFIC ISSUES

1) CPC 867 Architectural, engineering and other technical services

The whole area of architectural and engineering services can be viewed in two dimensions, in the form of a matrix. One is by type of service, for example advisory services, design services, services during the construction phase, project management services, or all of them in the form of integrated services or by type of project. Either dimension can be regarded as the principal dimension and the other as the secondary dimension. The Provisional CPC tried to combine the two dimensions by articulating the type of project only, under engineering design services. Countries should take a closer look at this issue, test this feature of the classification and report on which they think should be the principal dimension.

2) CPC 7123 Freight transportation

Presently, this area is broken down by mode of transportation, then by type of products transported. It was suggested that there is a need for a classification of products transported, which could be put in an annex at the back of the CPC. The mode of transportation has to do with the type of vehicle (i.e. containerized) and determines the product transported. It was suggested that a change in philosophy take place from a list of products transported to the mode of transportation and the type of vehicles used (there is a strong link between the type of vehicle and the products transported). It was noted that the products may be a type of proxy for the service. No such alternative has been examined or discussed. The Subgroup will check to see if the CPC can be slightly adapted to reflect the type of vehicle instead of the type of products carried.

It was suggested that perhaps the current CPC is appropriate if changes are made to the titles of the classes so that they refer to the types of vehicles capable of moving particular goods.

What should be done with milk trucks, live animals transporting and car transporting, etc ? These are sufficiently different types of vehicles that are not usually used to transport any other type of product.

OTHER UNRESOLVED ISSUES

1) CPC 51 Construction work

A discussion will be needed to consider whether or not renovations should be separated from construction. The difference between repair and renovations will also need to be explained.

CPC 5153 Roofing and waterproofing

This class should also include installation of metal or vinyl siding.

CPC 516 Installation work

CPC 517 Building completion and finishing work

The distinction between CPC 516 and 517 is not clear - it is not installation. Perhaps a change in title or clarification in the explanatory notes is needed.

CPC 5161 Heating, ventilation and air conditioning work

CPC 5178 Ornamentation fitting work

Modify the explanatory notes in CPC 5161 and 5178 so that it is clear that when duct work and other sheet metal work are performed as a primary activity, they are in 5178 and when they are "incidental to" heating and air conditioning, they are in 5161.

2) Section 6 Trade Services

At the moment, wholesale and retail trade are broken down by type of product being sold. To turn this into a list of products sold, some of the titles will need to be changed in order to delete the "specialized" nature of some of these classes.

It was suggested that there could be a list of products which are viewed as the services of trade and a more detailed list of products, which does not necessarily need to be part of the CPC - it could be an annex. Does a list of products sold belong in the CPC?

It was suggested that the list of products should be the same in both retail and wholesale trade.

The current Explanatory Notes are not exact, they are too approximative.

Should there be 3 classes: wholesale; commission agents; retail?

We need to know the scope of ISIC 5190 "Other Wholesale" before the CPC detail for wholesale trade can be determined. Various goods presumed to be in ISIC 5190 do not seem to fit into the CPC very well. Some goods may merit separate CPC lines (e.g. those relating to instrumentation).

3) CPC 84 Computer services

- a) Multimedia, virtual reality and artificial intelligence - should they be mentioned separately and are they custom or packaged products?

It was pointed out that multimedia should be mentioned separately and to date they are custom, but perhaps now they are packaged products. At the moment, there are no changes to be made, but the Subgroup will consider the US comments when they receive responses to their questions from the Industry.

- b) Is communications and networking software different from other software and does it merit a separate treatment? Is there software for telecommunications network services?

People who write the network software belong here and those who set up the networks are in computer consultancy.

- c) Is systems integration considered to be a separate product, unique product or a bundle of goods and services each of which can be identified separately?

Sweden cannot separate services and seem to need a systems integration class.

- d) What about software that is not "computer" software (i.e. in cars, singing cards, etc.)? Should it be considered separately from computer software?

It was suggested that the CPC provide detail for more types of software.

4) CPC 853 Interdisciplinary research and experimental development services

Clarify the scope. Presumably this research must involve both 851 (Research and experimental development services on natural sciences and engineering) and 852 (Research and experimental development services on social sciences and humanities). Combinations involving only 85201-9 would presumably stay in 852. Otherwise, data based on only the 3-digit system would be different from that used on the 4-digit system.

5) CPC 864 Market research and public opinion polling services

Both 86401 (Market research services) and 86402 (Public opinion polling services) include collecting opinions from the public. Walter Neece suggests moving all personal and telephone interviews, and mail surveys into 86403. 86401 would then cover the broader research on size and other characteristics of the market.

CPC 86401 Market research services

Delete the last sentence from the explanatory notes. These are included in 8520.

6) CPC 865 Management consulting services

The titles of the CPC categories have been changed and they have been made into 4-digit classes, but the explanatory notes need to be reviewed and the clarified.

Does consulting for Industrial development or Tourism development belong with Management consulting or Business consulting?

7) CPC 871 Advertising services

Delivery services of samples and other advertising material should, in the future, be classified in either Business services or Postal and courier services. At the moment, it is part of advertising. The following options need to be further considered and discussed.

- i) make a new class for delivery services of samples and other advertising material,
- ii) combine this service with CPC 87906 "Mailing list compilation and mailing services",
- iii) put it with postal and courier services,
- iv) leave it with advertising.

When a decision has been reached, ISIC will also need to be changed.
Where is newspaper distribution classified?

8) CPC 87409 Other building cleaning services

Discussion has begun as to what services are included in this subclass. Further examination of the content of this subclass is required.

9) CPC 875 Photographic services

Consider having two 4-digits: one for photography and one for photography processing services. This way if someone could not collect all the detail, they would at least have the two major subdivisions.

CPC 87503 Action photography services

Specifically mention videotaping of weddings and other special live events, in the explanatory notes.

10) Proposed CPC 877 Information retrieval and supply services

The content of this group should be further reviewed. The inclusion of publishing in this group should be considered.

The distinction between Library services and Archive services are not clear. There appears to be a considerable overlap. Perhaps they should not be separated.

11) CPC 879 Other business services

Other business services is one of the largest and fastest growing areas. It seems that we may not want to start out with all of the 5-digits used. Suggest splitting it into two 4-digits. One consisting of 87903 (Telephone answering services), 87904 (Duplicating services) and 87905 (Translation and interpretation services).

CPC 87909 Other business services n.e.c.

There should be a separate CPC for agency and booking services.

12) CPC 88110 Services incidental to agriculture

- a) It has been decided that a separate category should be created for "Ornamental landscape, garden and tree services". It is not clear where these services should be classified, since they do not produce agricultural products or provide services to agricultural production, but rather provide services to household, construction, real estate, and other non-farm users. Some suggestions have been:
 - i) to include it in CPC 01 with agriculture;
 - ii) to leave it in CPC 881; or
 - iii) to create two subclasses, one for business services and one for domestic or household services.
- b) At the moment, landscaping is considered to be a service incidental to agriculture in the CPC (88110). Landscaping is not covered in construction and perhaps should be.

Landscaping occurs after construction rather than before. In Australia, earthmoving and planting are done at the same time. It was suggested that a rule other than value-added should be used for deciding products - perhaps an end-product rule. More and more, businesses are involved in combinations of services and the Subgroup will need to adopt some rules for dealing with these combinations of services or products.

13) CPC 886 Repair services incidental to metal products, machinery and equipment

It was decided that a definition in HS terms of the CPC repair classes will be formulated for the Subgroup to review.

14) CPC 933 Social services

- a) The Subgroup must consider which activities are significant and should therefore belong in the CPC. For the CPC, should it matter that a service is delivered by government or not?

Why is a distinction made between CPC 9331 "Social services with accommodation" and CPC 9332 "Social services without accommodation"?

The Subgroup must check the CPC to see if there are categories into which all of the services identified by Australia and others fit. France suggested that this step can be undertaken by identifying the connection between these services in other documents and the CPC.

- b) It is difficult to tell what (if any) distinction is being made between welfare services and social services. Particularly because the explanatory notes for "welfare services" begins "Social assistance services..."

15) Environmental services

There needs to be further discussion on environmental services. The services need to be identified and it needs to be decided if these services can fit into existing CPC classes, or whether they require new classes. There is a need for a clear proposal as to which services should be introduced and how the CPC will be modified in order to accommodate them.

16) CPC 94 Sewage and refuse disposal, sanitation and other environmental protection services

This area needs further review. So far there have been two suggestions:

- i) It has been suggested that CPC 94020 "Refuse disposal services" be split into three subclasses, namely
CPC 94021 "Refuse incineration services",
CPC 94022 "Dumping and composting services" and CPC 94023 "Special refuse disposal services".

- ii) It has been suggested that
 - CPC 9404 "Cleaning services of exhaust gases",
 - CPC 9405 "Noise abatement services",
 - CPC 9406 "Nature and landscape protection services" and
 - CPC 9409 "Other environmental protection services n.e.c."be combined into one category
 - CPC 9409 "Other environmental protection services n.e.c."

17) CPC 96191 Theatrical producer and performing artists services

The placement of the services of theatrical producers needs further discussion.

18) CPC 96419 Other sporting services
CPC 96499 Other recreational services n.e.c.

It has been suggested that hunting and fishing services should be assigned to the same subclass. At the moment, they are in the two separate subclasses, but it has not yet been decided to which subclass these services should be assigned.

19) CPC 96419 Other sporting services
CPC 96499 Other recreational services n.e.c.
CPC 97090 Other services n.e.c.

Physical well being services, saunas, Turkish baths, etc. are included in "Other services n.e.c.". Fitness centres, aerobics, and body building can be put under sporting services or other recreational services. The Subgroup has not yet agreed on this issue.

20) CPC 96499 Other recreational services n.e.c.

Booking and casting services have been re-assigned to CPC 87909 "Other business services". These services will also need to be re-assigned in ISIC.

21) CPC 9701 Washing, cleaning and dyeing services

Create a subclass for Carpet cleaning and include upholstery cleaning since it is often performed by the same units.
